ALBERTA RETIRED TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Alberta Retired Teachers' Association (ARTA) was established and registered with the province of Alberta in 1963, though local organizations of retired teachers existed before that date in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge. From its beginnings, ARTA has been distinct from the Alberta Teachers' Association (ATA) and the Alberta Teachers' Retirement Fund (ATRF), but has maintained very close working relations with both those organizations. With eighteen branches and over 22,000 members, ARTA has become an influential body that also cultivates fellowship among its members.

MEMBERSHIP

The annual membership fee for affiliate members who are not enrolled in the ARTA Retiree Benefits Plan is $50.00 and is payable by Visa, Mastercard or cheque and is not prorated for the fiscal year (July 1 - June 30). If the member is enrolled in the ARTA Retiree Benefits Plan, the membership fee is automatically deducted along with the monthly premium payment and is prorated for the fiscal year (July 1 - June 30). Additional information regarding all eligible affiliate groups is available at arta.net.

ARTA MEMBERSHIP ADVANTAGES

ARTA members receive access to a quarterly magazine (news&views), a regular email newsletter (ARTAfacts), the Edvantage program which provides a wide variety of discounts, special rates from ARTA's home and auto insurance partner, life insurance options and scholarships for family members. The ARTA membership also provides members with the ability to apply for the ARTA Retiree Benefits Plan.

ARTA RETIREE BENEFITS PLAN

ARTA has developed a voluntary group benefits plan for all ARTA members. ARTA's Retiree Benefits Plan includes Group Extended Health Care coverage with optional Emergency Travel Insurance coverage (including trip interruption/cancellation) and/or Dental Care.

Membership fees are automatically deducted monthly along with benefit premium payments ($4.17 for affiliate members) for benefits plan participants.

Note: For continuous coverage, ARTA members should enrol in the ARTA Retiree Benefits Plan within 60 days of leaving a prior Group Extended Health Care Plan. After this date, medical evidence is required at time of applications for health plans which include emergency travel coverage and the member could be declined. If declined, the member can opt for a plan without emergency travel coverage.
